

The Greenwich Township Historical Society, Who are we and what do we do?

The Greenwich Township Historical Society is a group that meets on the second Thursday of the month at the Greenwich Township Library. We also have a room with displays and historical items at Broad Street School, and meet there on Wednesdays throughout the school year. Currently on display in our room we have; Gibbstown, Fire Company, Patriotic, School Photos and Trophy items. Recently we attended the Family Fun Night at Broad Street School and had school themed photos, yearbooks and memorabilia on display. We also completed a redecorating project in the glass cases in the vestibule of the school. The Historical Society also maintains a display case in the Greenwich Township Library and is responsible for updating new items regularly. Most recently we had Presidential and Phillies themed items for viewing there. We are always looking for donations of any old treasures you have laying around the house or information about our town. If you have old, historic items you would like to clean out please don't throw them away, contact any member of the Historical Committee and donate them today!
